

Editorial Staff Works Diligently To Meet Pressing Deadlines

On Monday and Wednesday afternoons, the '75-'76 editorial annual staff struggled to meet their ever-pressing deadlines. Despite numerous picture retakes, the fourteen members finished the 1976 yearbook by the final deadline. Writing copy and drawing layouts occupied much of the staff's time. Old members helped novices with yearbook basics. A summer workshop provided new ideas.

