

Friendship

Because of the understanding and support of friends, students were motivated to attempt higher goals. The willingness to listen and help in difficult times welded together friendships which would last throughout life. The stretching forth of one's hand to help another gave students aid when discouraged.

*Logan, Best of luck
in the future
FAREN CORDER*