

Hard Study Stimulates 7th Graders

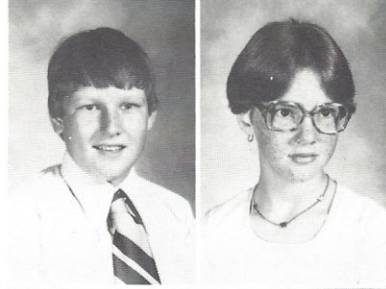

Seventh graders undertook a new and methodical type of schedule beginning in August. Students were given many more responsibilities and were presented with many new challenges in study.

Seventh graders enjoyed being involved in Junior Student Council and other activities such as Pep Club, cheerleading, and the newspaper staff. Also, the seventh graders had a chance to participate in the annual powder puff game. In the spring the students made their annual class trip to historic Charleston to learn more about their state.
