

Daily Assignments Keep First Grade Pupils Busy

Through their first year of "real" school, 1st graders continuously used their imagination and originality. With the aid of modern teaching techniques, learning the basic skills of reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic proved to be most enjoyable for all.

Many students agreed that their favorite subjects were lunch and recess. Eating lunch and playing chase and freeze tag filled many a recess hour. The students also eagerly awaited their appointed day for trips to the school library.

Throughout the year, the walls were decorated with drawings depicting various school holidays.
