

Juniors Present "Shangri-La" 1977

The Junior Class worked together to create a beautiful Oriental paradise for the annual Junior-Senior dance. Each day of the week prior to Junior-Senior, many students stayed after school to transform the walls and stage into the shops and streets of "Shangri La."

Entering the lobby, Juniors and Seniors found themselves walking through an enchanting Oriental garden with a bright red pagoda dominating the scene. Guests enjoyed the skit performed by the waiters and waitresses, who also served Oriental refreshments. The band, Tucson, performed in front of a large colorful dragon
