

Editorial Staff Has Best Year Yet

The '77-'78 editorial staff proved to be very dedicated, hard workers. They worked during their study halls and many long hours after school. With the new members learning the techniques of creating an annual and the old members perfecting their methods, the Rebel was finished with a glow of excitement by all. Along with the hard work came many learning experiences accompanied by moments of laughter.

1. Typing Quad-Paks, Andrea Myers, Lou Kinard, and Cam Thackston take time out for a laugh.

2. Pointing to the progress chart, Fran Mixson, editor, makes sure staff members know their deadlines.

3. Spending many hours after school, Janie Varn, Karen Hudson, and Mary Jo Myers complete their class section.
