Magazine Sales Break State Record

Wade Hampton is boasting its most successful magazine campaign ever in the selling of $24,325.56 worth of magazines. The selling period lasted two weeks, and students in the Upper and Lower Schools pitched in wholeheartedly to break the state record of $23,000.00.

Beth Lake won first place in the Upper School, selling $265.27 worth, and Jackie Sharpe was second, bringing in $205.04. In the Lower School first place went to Marlene Riles, who sold $246.93, and second place was won by Harry Culeasure with $206.44. Congratulations to these top salesmen!

Top salesmen for their grade levels are George Carson (7), Sherrill Jones (8), Beth Lake (9), Spencer McDonald (10), Susan Hammond (11), and Dwayne Corbett (12).

In the Lower School the students who sold the most their grade levels are Erick (1), Todd Beard (2), Hoyt (3), John Cook (4), Culeasure (5), and Ma Riles (6).

To encourage students' fazz balls, posters, card sling-a-lings, stuffed an and cash prizes were given various levels of achievement.

The profits received in sales will be divided up to the particular needs of various classes in the Upper and Lower Schools. The of the best ways WHA can have to raise money is important class projects this year the students can take advantage of it. It was the campaign a lot but many, many people a lot to read over the cold winter days ahead!

Homecoming Celebrated

LYNNE SMITH

This year's Homecoming festival at Wade Hampton was a big success. The week of September 12-18 students and faculty worked in preparing for the event. The most important work was put into the homecoming float. The theme was "Up, Up, Up in My Beautiful Sky." A beautifully colored float was set against a royal blue background. The float was covered with silver and the floor of the float was decorated with a royal blue and white checkered pattern. There was a special coronation of the queen which was held in the gymnasium. The total effect of the festival was beautiful with Queen

At school on Friday there was a special Homecoming Assembly which was held to introduce the sponsors and their escorts. The senior football players and their attendants were as follows: Cathy Axson with Boyce Till; Bobbie Ayers with Marty Smook; Cindy Booth with Brad Stogrove; Kris Brezney with Michael Culler; Beth Dahlgren with Ronnie Bird; Meredith Edmonds with Jon Hare; Debbie Garrett with Dan Rhoad; Cheryl Haightler with Steve Cook; Anne Harzog with Kenny Davis; Carla Marcus with Ronnie Vaughn; Fran Maxson with Phil Tyler; Cindy Pickett with John Sandler; Fran Shuler with John Salley; Lynne Smith with David Howe; Cheryl Williams with Jack Rose; Rose Marie Higginbotham with Lee Hughes. The junior representatives were Cindy Clifton escorts-

the freshman class. The eighth grade was represented by Donna Haightler, escorted by Dwayne Tanner, and the seventh grade was represented by Katherine Dawson escorted by Curt Bair. Following these introductions, the Pep Club performed a skit in which "The Little Rebels" met the "Wattawks." After the skit, the cheerleaders conducted a very spirited pep rally.

During halftime of the game between BHA and John G. Calhoun, the Homecoming Court was introduced by Jeff Kellier. Attendees walked out onto the field and anxiously awaited the announcement and crowning of the Queen and attendants. The voting had been done by the football team and the senior class.
