

Juniors Honor Seniors With "Southern Nights"

The juniors worked each afternoon the week before Jr.-Sr. to create a Southern atmosphere. Upon entering the lobby, juniors and seniors found themselves walking through the garden of a plantation home and stepping aboard a boat bound for New Orleans. The inside gym walls were transformed into quaint creole shops and a bayou. Five-Pound Smile provided music from the stage which had been decorated as a steamboat.

1. Guests and their dates anticipate the beginning of the skit.

2. Juniors work frantically to finish decorating the stage.

3. The lobby awaits completion the day before Junior-Senior.
