

With Dedication And Work Editorial Staff Produces Annual

Beginning with summer meetings, new staff members learned the basics of producing an annual. During the year, study halls were utilized to work on various sections which consisted of writing headlines, copy, and cutlines.

Members were required to stay at least two days a week after school to meet deadlines and to complete the yearbook. The annual's first photography staff spent much time taking and developing pictures.

1

2

1. While trying to think of a headline, Janie Varn, Karen Hudson, and Connie Myers pause for a moment.

2. Editor Beth Johnson approves copy for a layout.

3. Photography Staff: First row: Ozzie Shuler, Dick Cease, Jim Ulmer; Derek Rickenkaker, Susan Maxwell, David Corley; Dean Livingston.

3