

Upper School students developed their own abilities this year by increasing their solo performances. After being involved in clubs and taking part in the many activities the year had to offer, they not only developed their personalities and characters but learned to harmonize better with the world about them.

Students' tunes were full of much variety — many experiences. The individual songs were never ending so that events of the future might be added, revising the original melody.

