

Kindergartners Learn Through Projects

The kindergartners this year were busy, not only learning reading, writing and arithmetic, but also with projects such as learning about distant countries and the customs of international children. They planted spring farms, had an Easter egg hunt and a Christmas party. Along with the fun there was also work involved. Since this was their first year of school, the children were especially eager to learn. Reading and number concepts were stressed to better prepare the children for the many school years ahead.
