

Varsity Cheerleaders Boost Spirit

The varsity cheerleaders worked long and hard to support all athletic teams and boost school spirit. Practice required time and patience throughout the summer and twice a week during the school year. Practice paid off, however, as shown by their ability to perform the intricate cheers and routines.

Money was raised by the cheerleader-sponsored cheerleader camp for Lower School girls and by selling pompoms and spirit bugs.

The annual homecoming festivities and the first "senior parent recognition" program were arranged and directed by the cheerleaders. Kathy Booth was head cheerleader, and Mrs. O'Gorman was sponsor.
