

I, Margaret Moore, do hereby will and bequeath my ambition and ability to finish high school to my brother, Billy.

I, Nealie Drawdy, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be on the National Honor Society to Anne Carter.

I, Betty Raye Smith, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get along with people to Mary Frances Kennerty.

I, Willie Strickland, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get along with the teachers to everyone who needs it.

I, Grace Rentz, do hereby will and bequeath my streamlined figure to Elizabeth Jones.

I, Mildred Koger, do hereby will and bequeath my love for French and my ability to get along with Miss Collier to Dorothy Campbell.

I, Cleo Chambers, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to type to Catherine Matthews.

I, Betty Linder, do hereby will and bequeath my love for a certain black Ford, hoping it will visit us more in the future, to Sara Gatch.

I, Della Mae Benton, do hereby will and bequeath my black hair to Helen Rentz.

I, Billy Martin, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get along with Miss Lumiansky to Lydia Martin.

I, Senie Linder, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to talk in Mr. Edward's room and get by with it to Harriet Linder.

I, Roland S. Jones, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to maintain an "E" average in French to Billie Mobley.