

JUNIORS

Ann Turner

Gilda Turner

Gloria Varnadoe

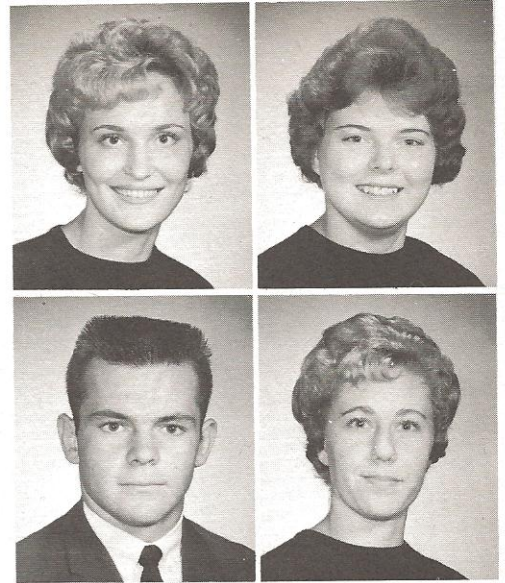

Kay Walker

Susan Wells

Lynda Wiggins

Richard Woods

Jane Zeigler

NOT PICTURED:

Sharon Foley
Mary Hodge

The Junior Year -- a year of hard work, confusion, and plenty of fun. At long last you have become upper-classmen. It took two years, but you finally made it.

The first thing on the calendar to keep you busy was concessions at the football games. Then, you celebrated Halloween with the annual Halloween Carnival.

This year brought many new privileges: Juniors could be Varsity Cheerleaders, belong to the Annual staff, and some few could hold the positions of Junior Marshals.

Around Christmas, you also gave the Junior Class Play, one of your important projects.

Then, with spring came that "moment to remember" -- the long awaited Junior-Senior.

With the ending of the school year, you are taking one step up to hold that most cherished position of Seniors. This has truly been a year to remember.