

Varsity Basketball

The Walterboro High School Girls' Basketball team faced a long, hard season against some of the toughest teams ever to play a girls' Wildcat team. Just as the scoreboard does not always tell the story of the game; neither does the year's game record always tell the story of the team. So it goes for the Wildcat girls. The team worked hard in practice and played with the desire to win in the true Wildcat spirit—even when things got rough.

Because of its action, girls' basketball is still growing in popularity at W.H.S. Composed largely of younger players, the team, under the coaching of Coach Sigman, is looking forward to a promising future. The Wildcat girls ended the season on a happy note by having Debby Griffith selected to the All-Conference Team.

That, Debby, is what we call a basketball.

A "headless" Wildcat makes two!

Sheron cuts towards the basket but where is the ball?
