

T & I Continues to Grow with Our School.

The main objectives of the T & I Club are to prepare the students for life in a democracy, to make them increasingly self-directive, to teach cooperation, to increase the interests of the students in the school, to foster sentiments of law and order, and to develop special abilities through exploration, vocational training, business training, and recognition of various interests and ambitions.

The T & I Club began its activities with the initiation of new members. It traveled to Charleston and to vocational schools, held its annual steak supper, and showed projects at the State Teachers' Conference. The club had a money-making and a civic project.

Cutting a Board is not half as much fun as cutting a class.
