

Our Future

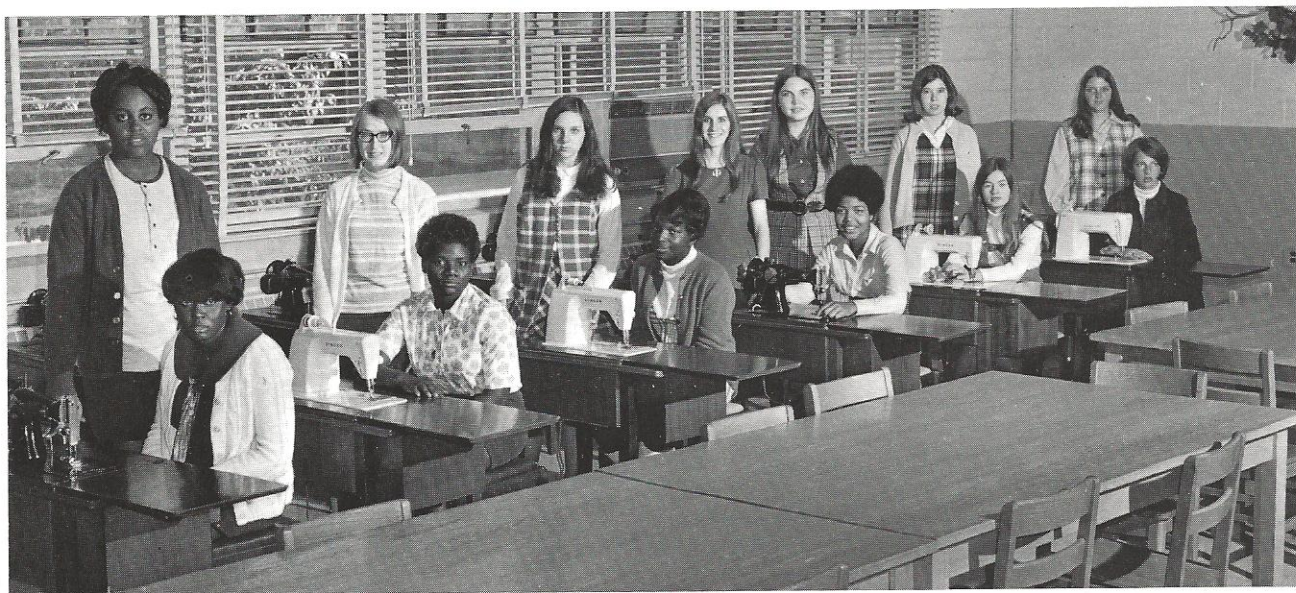

Homemakers in the Making

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization composed of girls who have taken or are presently enrolled in Home Economics. The membership is accepted on a voluntary basis. The FHA members strive to better prepare themselves for their roles as future homemakers.

The members meet at least twice a month during activity period. A program is outlined in a yearbook and each member receives one, so that she will know her responsibilities.

The FHA has various projects during the year. One of these is giving a basket of food to a needy family at Thanksgiving. Also a Miss FHA rides in the Christmas parade each year.

The officers of this organization attend a leadership workshop that is conducted in the district. One delegate from our school attends the annual FHA Convention that is held in Columbia.
