

Seniors 1971 - 1972

We are standing at the threshold to another world,
We are waiting to enter and begin adult life,
While we wait, our thoughts wander back in time.
Meek and unsure, we had entered the past era of adolescence,
And then began the climb in rank while adjusting to our responsibilities and positions.
The web of life grew more complex and entangling,
We searched for a way to enrich and simplify this web
with our advancing knowledge.
We knew the world would become ours, ours to improve or to destroy.
Only we could make that decision.
Now we have arrived at a rendez-vous with this decision.
Our courage must be brought forth,
And we must march on to make this world a better place.
