

Band Adds Music and Pep to School Activities

The 1971-72 school year was a year of continued improvement and success for the Walterboro High School Band, as it appeared throughout the state performing at football games, band contests, parades and concerts. Wearing brand new uniforms, the band appeared before over 100,000 people and brought honor and recognition to itself and to the school.

During the fall, the marching band enjoyed its greatest success in many years winning trophies at the Coastal Carolina Marching Festival and the Southern States Band Festival.

The concert band and jazz ensemble presented its annual "Pops" Concert in February and its Spring concert in May. Several outstanding band members were selected to the Coastal District All-State Band and the All-State Band.
