

Junior Varsity Chalk Up Winning Season

(Above) Head coach Kaznoski and defense coach Simmons discuss strategy. (Below) Gary Rhode appears to be waltzing with a Green Wave as his tackle stands the runner up straight.

(Below) Coach Simmons prepares the defensive unit.

(Above) Displaying teamwork that brought this year's success, Raymond Taylor (22) tackles an opponent as Steve Sweat and Charles Breland come to his aid.

(Above) Back Kenny Bright slides through the air over Green Wave tackler and a Bulldog blocker.

The Walterboro junior varsity compiled an impressive record. Under the direction of head coach John Kaznoski, and assistant coaches Francis Simmons and Richard Starks, the "Bullpups" went 6-3-1- on the season. A tough unyielding defense gave up only 67 points in ten games, while shutting out four of their opponents. The conference championship at the JV level hinged on the final game against Goose Creek JV's. The "Bullpups" fell short and the game ended in a 14-8 Gator win.