

Chorus Becomes Center of Tradition

Genny Skardon serves as Student Director with Lynn Williamson as her assistant.

This year's chorus schedule was unique in that there were three classes instead of the traditional two. The overwhelming interest in chorus this year made it necessary to divide the usual fourth period class into fourth and fifth periods.

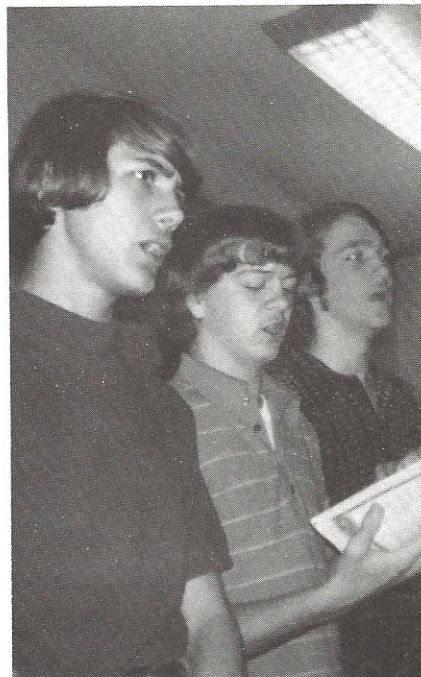

Tradition and discipline drew students to form a strong concert chorus. Students from fourth period provided the core for the performing chorus while students from Colleton strengthened the group.

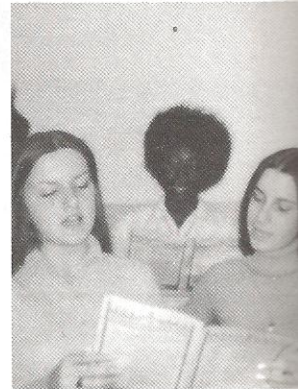

The combined classes of Colleton and Walterboro High Schools sing at the Tree Lighting Service.

The altos are concentrating as always on their work.

Mark Beach, Joel Reese, and Burt Bazzle lead the bass section in a song.

First sopranos Hermene Nettles, Aletha Mikel, Judy Foley, and Sharon Tucker hit the high notes.
