

Girls State Representatives — Lynn Williamson, Nancy Padgett, and Genny Skardon.

Two new classes were added to the curriculum this year, Psychology 101 and Advanced Biology.

Psychology 101 permitted high school seniors to earn three college credits from the University of South Carolina. Lectures by USC professor came to the school via I-TV. Exams were written and graded by university personnel. Twenty-seven WHS students enrolled in the course for college credit, while seven other students signed up for high school credit.

Advanced Biology was also added to increase the range of courses available for seniors. Mr. Kumar taught the class. Dissections and other experimental research projects were accomplished by his students.

Biology II students, Bob Burch and Zenonia Stallings, enjoy lab.

DELEGATES TO GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE

Lynn Williamson, Genny Skardon, and Nancy Padgett joined other South Carolina girls at the University of South Carolina in Columbia last summer. The high school representatives participated in a week of planned activities which demonstrated the workings of a democratic system of government.

Boys' State delegates returned from The Citadel last summer with a better understanding of local and state governments. During the week of activities sponsored by the American Legion, 608 South Carolina boys set up a mock government, complete with political parties and campaign speeches. Delegates Payton Crosby, Oliver Barnes, and Billy Spahr welcomed the opportunity to meet boys from other parts of the state.

Boys State Representatives — Payton Crosby, Billy Spahr, and Oliver Barnes.

Joel Padgett gets a moment's rest in Psychology 101.

