

Directing his gaze to some distant object, Johnny Robinson contemplates his future.

John Sherouse calculates the distance yet to be walked in the Cerebral Palsy Walk-a-thon.

Mary Shider muses upon the intricacies of everyday existence.

Waiting for classes to begin Beth Bishop mulls over the preparations made or not made for each of her classes.

