

Gymnastic stunts such as Sandy Socha's split add to the cheerleaders repertoire.

The Walterboro Senior High School Varsity Cheerleaders are one of the most spirited bunch of girls in this part of the country. No matter what you're planning to do, you can't do it very well unless you know that you've got someone behind you, someone pulling for you. Well, this year's cheerleaders will never leave anyone wondering who they're pulling for, who's going to win, or who's the best. Whether it's "Gimme a B", or "There's a reason", the cheer has "Sp-ir-it!"

Using their pom-poms for color and emphasis, the cheerleaders do their victory dance after another touchdown.

"Bemittened" cheerleaders chase away the cold as they lead an enthusiastic crowd during the Ruffin game.

Peggy Truluck demonstrates that cheerleading can be serious business as she tries to rouse senior spirit during a pep rally.
