

"Who loves ya, baby?" We do because Kojak is number one with us.

In October the yearbook staff polled the homerooms to find out who and what are the favorite celebrated people, things and events at WHS. We came up with some surprising winners and a few very obvious returnees. Good Times took the comedy slot with a landslide second only to that of The Young and the Restless in the soap opera category. Music is popular everywhere but especially in our halls at lunch. The Eagles and The Spinners tied for this spot, and sports and music also ran a close race for general passtime. Believe it or not, "Playboy" didn't even get in the finalists! Our students have voted for more conservative means such as "Jet", "Sports Illustrated", and two drama shows, Kojak and Medical Center. Kotter and the Sweathogs did break through, though, by being voted the favorite new show of the year. When asked about contrasting, more serious matters, our prospective 1976 voting students felt that President Ford will be returned to office for yet another term.

As a favorite passtime, Sports rated the highest. This may be due to the outstanding records set by our athletes this year.

"Hello there, Mr. Kotter!" Kotter and his Sweathogs were real favorites at Walterboro High.

The eligible voters at Walterboro High seem to consider Gerald Ford as a good bet in the 1976 elections.
