

Hallelujah! For the first time in 14 years the Bulldogs finally rode on top of the Green Waves. Unfortunately, this victory was without the help of Teddy Brown, Tony Memminger and Billy Smoak who were sidelined because of injuries.

All players played far beyond their potential; but the defensive team was the star of this game. On the left side stood Bobo Stanfield, Dunky Crosby, David Whay, and Brady Howe. On the right stood Lester Robinson, Charles Breland, Bernard Grant, Floyd Ferguson and Dean Glover. Casey Price slapped the ball out of Summerville's hands, and ran the first touchdown.

The offensive team got jealous and wanted to get in the show. Behind blocking Stuart Crosby, Cleveland Boughes; Ted Stanfield, Reginald McNeil, Lander Manigo, and the Smith brothers (Tony and Nickie), Nick Pinckney let loose and threw what was called by the Walterboro fans, "the big BOMB." "The Juice", Raymond Ford received it and burst through to make the second touchdown. At this time we backed off and allowed Summerville to make seven points. Then, Gary Bodison and Jerry Cockrum turned the tables on the Green Waves, keeping their team in possession of the ball. The game was over. Hallelujah!! We did it!!

What are they doing? Coach R. Starks watches and worries.

They got me! They got me! Jerry Cockran is taken down by his opponents. Reggie McNeil, Lander Manigo, and Gary Bodison come to his rescue.
