

Office Helpers

Most students tried to get out of work and some students never thought of doing work for nothing. Our school had some students who never thought of turning down work that would help someone else. Who were these people? These were office workers! These students worked hard but didn't get any compensation. They gave their time to the office and to the school.

Working in the office also had its advantages. Students learned what working in an office was like and also got to know how the school system worked.

These students worked together to make the office system a First Class operation.

Sorting out information for the principals are Mike Carter and Tina Renee Crosby.

Helping with the flowers that will be delivered is Mr. John Stephens.

Taking a break from the office work are Jerri-Ann Blakeman and Mrs. Pat Rhode.
