

For the Future of the People

When thinking of the future, it came easy to most students. But some of us had to make decisions dealing with our careers this year.

Students in the future profession clubs said their reason for joining the FTA and the Military club was to find out if they would enjoy their chosen vocation. "They discovered," said Robin Rutan, "that it wasn't as easy as they thought; there were many things to learn, and it will take a while to learn and experience them all." Most of them enjoyed the idea of pursuing these careers.
