Starting off right

The week that followed their victory over O-W, Walterboro celebrated their second win and shut out of the season. They defeated the Beaufort Eagles 2-0.

The dawgs took the opening kickoff and drove down the field only to be stopped. It was one of those ever popular mud battles that caused a stalemate till the third quarter. The Beaufort punter was back deep in his own endzone to punt. A high snap and a powerful Bulldog rush caused the punter to be pounced on by Franklin McCoy, Tony Stephens and Greg Kinsey, breaking the deadlock score. This victory moved the dawgs up to eighteenth in the state.

It was just like playing on an enormous sponge. "All we could do was dig in and do battle," said guard Kevin Whitaker.

In the third quarter Garrett Carter plunged in for a touchdown from a yard out.

Being 3-0 and tenth in the state, the dawgs pursued another victory by defeating the state champions Berkeley Stags 17-14 in a breath taking game that went down to the last second.
