

Preparing for the Future

Graduation Practice

"Lets do it again. Danny, get back in line." Preparation for graduation was a lot of work, and a little less than fun. But seniors knew they had to get it right for the real thing.

Practice started at 9:30 A.M. and lasted until noon. Seniors received report cards and a certificate from Senator Strom Thurmond. After finding the much looked for word . . . GRADUATED . . . practice began.

Seniors were told not to step out of line, to wear dresses or dress pants, and to wear their tassels on the right side.

"They wanted to make sure that we didn't mess up the real thing," said senior Melissa Brown.

After three hours of practice they were ready. Now all they had to do was to be back at the gym and ready to go, by 8:00 that night.

Band members Thomas White, Greg Fennesy and Randy Hall wait for practice to begin.

As seniors sit in their assigned seats, instructions are given by Mrs. George.

Marshalls John Babilon and Rolfe Martin wait for the processional.
