Seniors build Spirit

From diapers to dresses, and green hair to tuxedos, this year's spirit weeks was tops, for everything went!

Monday was Kiddie Day. Students and teachers pulled out their almost forgotten rattles, pj's, and baby bottles. Plaid skirts, bobbie socks, leather jackets, and greased hair were the "in" things sported on Tuesday, 50's Day. Wednesday was Dress-up Day and students showed their approval dressed in khaki's and Polo, three piece suits, and stylish new dresses. Everyone became involved on Thursday, Punk Rock Day. Hair color varied from hot pink to mascot blue. Dress codes were forgotten while the students went wild and punked out in leather mini-skirts and torn sweat shirts.

Friday, Blue and White Day, the entire school showed their overwhelming spirit and support for the Bulldogs and helped carry them to victory over the Battery Creek Dolphins.

Kaye Barwick and Lucille Guilford search for more Dippity-Do to keep their hair punky for the rest of the day.

In a spirited pep rally before the Summerville game, Mr. Jarvis blows his horn to the beat of the cheers.
