

A Taste of Times

fads change

Hanging out! Cruising the boulevard! Spending the night at a friend's house! That was what students did with their free time.

When it was "party time" where did students go? "Since the Cook Theatre closed, there's nothing to do in Walterboro. We usually go to Charleston, to concerts or to Hampton to skate," said Roderrick Miley and Sam Pinckney. Groups like the "Gap Band" and "Lionel Richie and the Commodores" had concerts along with many others.

Besides partying, students worried about clothes and music and basically "being cool." Jeans and t-shirts were in but they weren't just t-shirts and jeans. It was Levis, Lees, Calvin Klein and Panama Jack or it was nothing at all.

Students were always experiencing a taste of times.

Heather Rash and Bart Carter spend Saturday afternoon cruising.

Anyone can tell that pizza is Annette Teasdell's and Stephanie McMillan's favorite food.

