

Tina Smoak
Theresa Smyly
Tracy Snider
James Stanfield
Vincent Stephens
Ray Simmons

Dan Sutton
Sarai Taylor
Anna Thomas
Audra Thomas
Yvette Tillman
Joseph Tindal

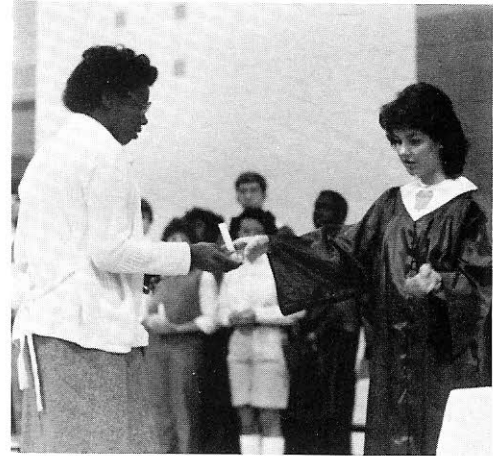

What an Honor

What did you get when you worked hard, long hours on something that was really important? Hopefully you got success and recognition. That's exactly what the top sophomores received at the N.H.S. installation. Making it big was really important. Those students showed they were thinking of the future by setting goals early in life. "It feels great to know that all my long hours of hard work have paid off," Patricia Ferguson remarked.

The N.H.S. installation was held in the gym and anticipation became the name of the game. Michele Williams said, "I was in a state of shock when my name was called." Everyone saw her dismayed expression. She also said, "I will try my best to live up to the expectations." However frightening it was to take that long, lonely walk on the gym floor, a few people did it. Getting in the N.H.S. was not easy and keeping up the requirements was even harder. Those students maintained an overall 90 average in all academic subjects.

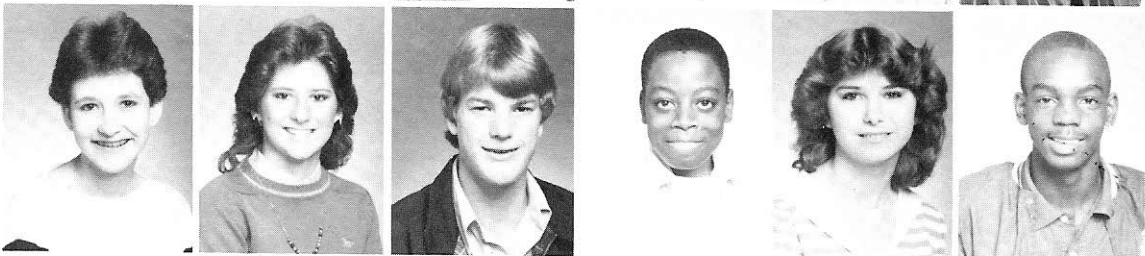

Leslie Rogers hands Michelle Williams a candle that symbolized a tradition carried on throughout N.H.S. history.

Arthur Townsend
Shelton Trimble
Clifton Tucker
Zaporla Tucker
Amy Varnadoe
Nicole Varnadoe

Chris Vitello
Sonya Walling
Walker Moore
Patrick Walters
Melissa Warren
Scott Warren

Christal Washington
Michelle Wasson
Christal Wesley
Louie Whidden
Kellye Whitaker
Beverly White

