

Answering one of the many phone calls that shower the main office is Ms. K. Boensch.

Hardly Ever Noticed

Did you ever wonder who answered phone calls, got you out of class, sent messages and in general made school run smoothly? The overlooked office staff did all of this and more.

Office staff were housed in several areas of our school; the office area, guidance office and attendance area. The office staff had a never ending job, of keeping records, answering the phone, and running copies of papers for teachers who always needed them yesterday. Listening was another job altogether. Mrs. Dolly Mocha, attendance clerk probably had to listen to more excuses than anyone else.

In spite of all the work that was done in the office, the staff still found time to listen to student's problems. So, to all the office staff—thanks.

Being caught off guard by the photographer is Mrs. E. Williams while Mrs. Joyce Lake waits for instructions as to what needs to be copied.
