

Extraordinary™

How did a student show that he had class and build his sense of style? He joined the Spirit, Pep, and Distributive Education Clubs. The Spirit Club, which was a new addition, did many extraordinary things. They sold spirit items, made posters, and painted paw prints. They made badges for football games, supplied balloons, sponsored the mascot and buses to the football games, made cookies for football players, bought lunch for football coaches and rounded up 'secret pals.' They also urged everyone to wear blue and white, the school colors, on Fridays. They also planned an after basketball game party, bake sales, and a beach party for all Spirit Club members.

The Pep Club sold seat cushions and Bulldog horns. They also got involved in edifying spirit around the school.

Waiting patiently while Christa Gilgen paints a paw is Lynette Burgess.

Not only does Pat Rhode supervise the school office, she is a sponsor of the Spirit Club and is Walterboro's #1 fan.

Pep Club President is Kim Risher. The Pep Club is sponsored by Mr. Pendergrass and it is the largest club at W.H.S.
