Running to win

To all the young runners and all the young shot putters as well, it seemed as if the running would never end. But it did. And in the end, it payed off by giving Walterboro one of its better track teams.

The track team was a young team this year. The team, which finished fourth in the conference, will lose 6 seniors, including three of their top performers, Chris LeGourd, Curtis Fields and Abe Bryan. All three of these athletes made the lower state meet this year.

The team saw a more rounded success this year. All the scoring wasn't attributed to the efforts of 2 or 3 athletes but to the whole team.

Although the team had many people scoring a lot of points, it was the constant high scoring efforts of these three that gave the track team a foundation to build on through out the season. Chris LeGourd was the track team's most valuable player and the only player to make it to the state meet. He finished 6th in the state while his teammates, Curtis Fields and Abe Bryan, were eliminated in the lower state meet.

The team as a whole had a good year. The team work of the relay team and all the individual efforts made the year's track season a successful one.
