

Smiling are the Sophomore Class Officers: Tonya Haynes, Nathaniel Pinckney, Melissa Tomlinson, Leslie Pitts and Kim Simmons.

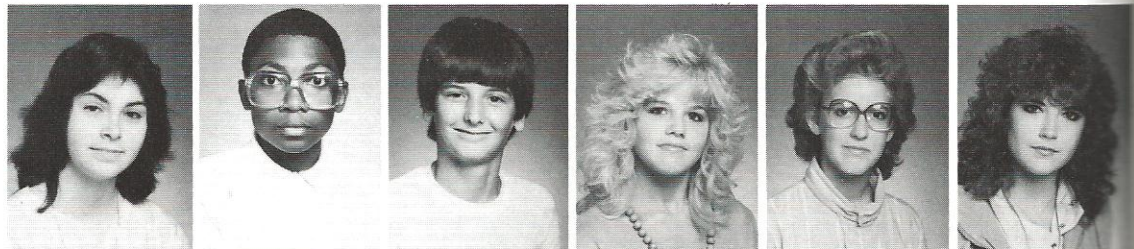

The Class of 1987

The sophomore class officers and representatives worked on many fundraising projects. Selling doughnuts, and stuffed animals helped finance many activities, such as the Spring Dance. The officers and representatives organized these projects at meetings before and after school. They used their lunch periods for meetings, also.

"I feel that Tonya Haynes did a great job of serving as president," said Angie Brown, student council representative, "and although there was a lack of participation at most meetings, she did her best to promote class projects."
