

church services, and a splendid parade. Colleton County certainly expressed that "it's not quantity but quality."

Walterboro's community life often extended to other places. Only 45 minutes from Charleston and the beaches, diversions and small vacations were easily accessible. But Colletonians soon realized that visiting wasn't all they did. Tourism was Walterboro's number two industry coming right after forest products. Though Walterboro was no landmark, it provided a respite for I-95 traffic.

Calmly composed, Herbert Fields heroically bears the pain from the fearsome needle that the Blood Mobile worker jabs into him.
