Juniors Take Charge

JUNIOR class officers are Janyce Cobbs, Sonta Smalls, Shantell Lewis, and Vincent Smalls. Not shown were John Kelly, treasurer and Kelli Purvis and Scott Hudson, members-at-large.

Each year the junior class was actively involved in many matters that concerned the student body. Their most important role was the junior-senior prom. They discussed plans and decorations for the prom. The tentative date was set for May 5. Besides the prom, they also addressed fundraising and other items pertinent to the juniors as a whole.

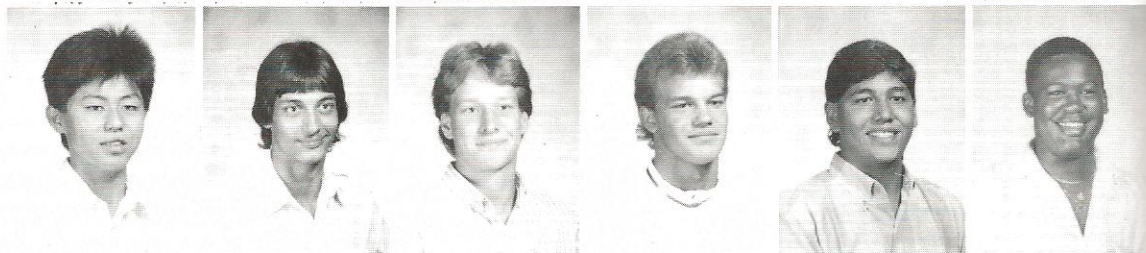

Vincent Smalls, junior class president, had been an active member of the student council since junior high. He commented, "I have enjoyed having the opportunity to serve as a junior class officer. The experience that I have gained was both educational and enlightening." He also added that he had thoroughly enjoyed his experiences in student council. Janyce Cobbs, vice-president, stated, "I enjoy being able to have a vote on decisions in my school that will affect me." Shantell Lewis, secretary, added, "Having something to say about the things that go on in this school is great. I can not complain about anything that I can vote on." The junior class seemed to be involved with the school's government. They agreed that they enjoyed their junior year, but looked forward to their senior year.
