

Psyched Up

Spirit always helped players get psyched up for the big game. The spirit of those around them may be what helped players to score that winning touchdown, basket, run, or goal. Cheerleaders are traditionally known for possessing a lot of spirit, therefore it is no surprise that two cheerleaders were chosen as "Most Spirited" by the senior class. They were Daphne Blocker and Steve Carroll.

Daphne was an active member of the Drama Club, recipient of the Power Pack award, and named the Most Dedicated Cheerleader at the annual awards banquet. Daphne believed that spirit was important because, "it helped build the players' confidence and got them excited about the upcoming game."

Steve was a member of FTA, the journalism staff, the golf team and a National Karate Champion along with being one of the first male cheerleaders at WHS. He believes that spirit is important because it helps one's cause.

"I really enjoyed being able to express my school spirit for the Bulldogs," Steve said.

Spirit was an important factor for these students not only in cheering, but also in a way of life.

— Bramlett E. Easterlin

At a football game, Daphne Blocker attempts to lift the spirits of the crowd. Daphne could be seen every morning on the televised announcements.

Steve Carroll takes a minute to catch his breath after a pep rally. Being on the journalism staff was another of Steve's activity.

