

Heading for the Green

Teeing off to the Millennium

The golf team started off the year with high hopes. There were many new players that had not been on a golf team before, so this was an all new experience for them.

"This is my first year on a golf team, but I've been playing for a while. I think I am getting pretty good," said sophomore Ryan Berry.

The whole team put in many long practices and worked very hard to improve and succeed.

"I've been playing golf since I was a child, but I am still working hard to reach my goals and change the team for the better," said junior Kyle Moody.

Players also improved by watching their teammates. They all got along very well and had a lot of fun with each other on and off the greens.

"This season was not our best, but we all tried very hard. I hope next year will be better, said junior Gareth Avant.

They did great in the tournaments in which they competed. Except when one of their fellow teammates got them kicked out.

Charlie Hoffman picked up another teams' ball at one game. "I disqualified our team from a tournament once. My teammates got kind of mad at me, but they quickly forgave me. They are very understanding and they have helped my game increase in skill," said freshman Charlie Hoffman.

Charlie was new on the golf team, but was treated with respect. Everyone made the newest golf players feel very welcome, that helped the team.

Though they did not have a perfect season they bonded and made new friendships.

...having fun "I loved joking around with the guys on my team. They are so much fun to hang out with, and they give great advice on how to improve my game," said freshman Dustin Douglas. The team practiced at Dogwood Hill's Country Club where after a long day of playing golf they still had to carry their own golf clubs. They did not get to have their own
