

REAL MEN WEAR BLUE

AND WHITE

Varsity Football
Rocks the Doghouse!

The crowd yelled, the band played, and the stadium lights hummed. Packed stands and hundreds of people surrounded the 100 yard long field. The crowd roared and the band struck up as the real men ran out on the field wearing blue and white. The Friday night game had not even started yet, but the vibe of victory already hung in the air.

"My favorite part of playing football is Friday night. That is my pay day." said junior Sha' Ron Jenkins. "Our football team was one of the most respected teams in the state. We had to earn that back."

Playing football meant dedication. Football was a very demanding and time consuming sport. But football gave back as much as it took. Most of the team learned respect, dedication, and sportsmanship.

"Sportsmanship, to me, is being under control and having respect for coaches, players on your team, and players on the other team." said junior Chris Washington.

Each season brought new challenges to face. Every Friday night the dogs got out on the field giving it all they had. In the end, they showed the fans that all of the hard work and dedication really did pay off.

Time Out! During a quick time out, Coach Razonno instructs the players during a home game against Battery Creek. He must have said the right thing because the Dogs won the home coming game nineteen to seven.
