Have It Your Way

Students at AJA like to have it their way! That is they love to break the rules. AJA's rules that is. They sat on the top bleacher, showed affection, wore shorts too short, and worst of all, seized control of the teachers! The students decided that they had had enough and started doing things their way. What you are about to see in the rest of this book is going to be AJA's way . . . the student's way that is . . . of doing things. So just sit back and enjoy.
