

Glancing from her studies, Denise gives us her best smile.

Heavily in thought, David would rather finish math than smile at the camera.

While taking a break from their studies, Nicolas and Kris take time to show that they can be happy in school.

Explaining the question, Maria, listens and immediately knows the answer.

