

I hope Mrs. Stanley doesn't think we're listening to her!

Never let it be said that the teachers at AJA aren't dedicated and caring professionals.

When asked what they enjoy about teaching at Andrew Jackson our faculty had a lot to say.

Mrs. Frye stated that she enjoys being able to teach Bible verses and Christian songs.

Mrs. Marsha enjoys the fact that the school is family oriented and that there is no discipline problems, which makes it a pleasure to teach at Andrew Jackson.

Mrs. Kearse exclaims that she enjoys the four day week and occasional lunches from Rachels!

Mrs. Webb enjoys the small classes and being able to get to know all the students.

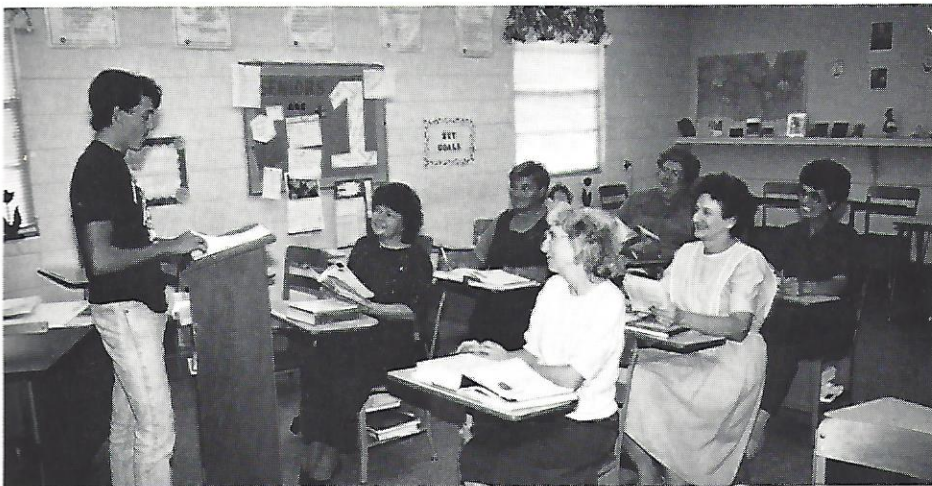

Mrs. Evelyn enjoys the relaxed environment.

Mrs. Peggy enjoys working with the faculty and the grammar and high school students.

Mrs. Flail states that she likes the students and the people she works with. She also says that the seniors are special students to her. She also enjoys how close everyone is.

Mrs. Horton enjoys the students she teaches and the people she works with. She also enjoys the atmosphere of the school.

All kidding and sarcasm aside, students at Andrew Jackson should consider themselves privileged to have such wonderful ladies caring for them for their future.

Now Miss Kirkland, what's your excuse for not having your homework today?

Taking time out of their busy schedules, Miss Paula and Mrs. Peggy pose for the camera.

"No, actually, Mrs. Kearse, I don't understand!" exclaims Matt.
