

UNDERGRADUATES

When it comes to the Undergraduates you may just have to read between the lines. You never know what they will be up to next. If it isn't talking in the classroom, it's cutting up in the hall. Every student has a close relationship with everyone else. This closeness makes school life better than ever . . . and undoubtedly unforgettable.

Read Between The Lines

Class lectures always seem to bore me.

Read Between The Lines

I wish there was some activity to do during lunch to make the time pass quickly.
