Jim Catterton is a newcomer this year to AJA. He likes the smaller classes.

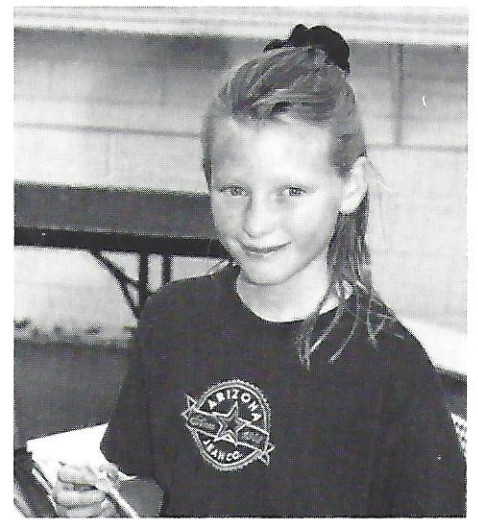

Mrs. Hiers' fifth grade more than doubled this year. It was looking pretty gloomy since only two students had enrolled but when the first day of school arrived the number had increased to five!

These students are in a race against time. They love math, recess and lunch. They are eager to become sixth graders and think that will give them more class as the oldest kids in grammar school.

Mrs. Hiers said, "I love to teach or else I would be retired (again)!"

Jerel Hawkins returned to AJA this year and has proved to be an honest young man. He found a valuable object and was rewarded when he returned it to its rightful owner. It pays to be honest, right, Jerel?

Amber Hyatt also joined AJA this year and is a great asset to the fifth grade.

Recognize this pretty girl? She's Rachel Stewart.

Maggie Seigler joined us from Pawley's Island. Welcome!
