

Matthew,

Even though this was a big change for you this year, we want you to know how very proud of you we are of your accomplishments. Always remember what we have tried to instill in you down through the years and put God first in your life.

We love you,
Dad and Mom

Shaun,

As you close this chapter in your life and begin a new one, always be true to yourself and remember life is what you make it. Also don't ever forget all the memories we have shared in the past or what the future ones hold. You are one very special person to me and may God bless you.

*I love you,
Barbie*
