

The Class of 2004 will have many things to treasure over the years. Some friendships will continue, others will go in different directions. One thing is for sure...time together at AJA will always be remembered with love.

