

Sophomores

The Sophomore Class looks like they really enjoy school, huh?

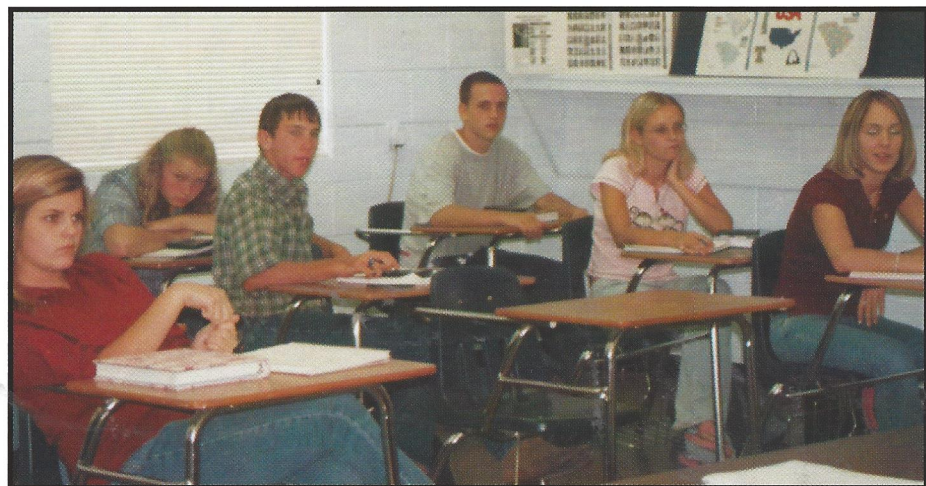

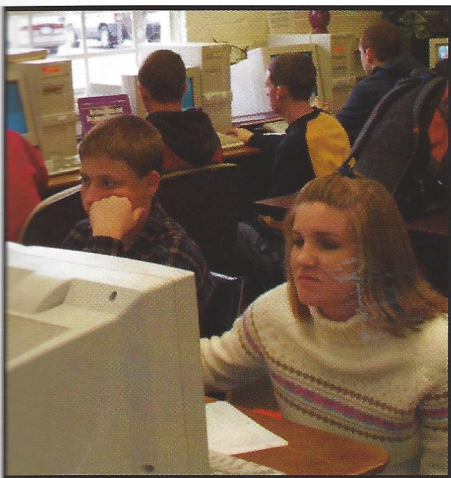

William Varn and Sarah Richardson find something terribly funny on their computers.

The Sophomore Class is full of energy and potential. Away from school almost everyone likes to hang out with friends, ride horses, and play sports. Surprisingly, some said, "Work!" The best part of school is sports, Mr. Stroman's class and waiting for the 3:05 bell! The Sophomores think Remy is the class clown and the coolest. Jeremy and Remy are most athletic. When you asked the guys to describe the girls in the class, they said "talkative, blonde acting, and gossipers." About the guys, the girls said, "Duh!" The best dressed in the class are Lauren and Daniel. Eight Sophomores are planning to attend college at this time. We expect great things from the Class of 2007.

CLASS OF 7
2007

Lauren Avant and Tybee Stroman concentrate on their computer work for Mr. Koho.

The sophomore class can't possibly be paying attention with all of these wandering facial expressions.